NO.	ACTIVITY / PROGRAM	DESCRIPTION/RESULT
		a. High Level Meeting: Business Integrity in National Anticorruption Strategy (Speakers: KPK Head, the Minister of Home Affairs, the Minister of National Development Planning/ Head of National Development Planning Agency, the Head of Presidential Staff) Conclusion/recommendations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Good collaboration between the government and public and private sectors is crucial to collectively eradicate corruption, because corruption affects state credibility and economy. • Corruption prevention efforts is important to drive economic growth through healthy competition in business opportunities, push for state enterprises' innovation and creativity, and invite development investment. • Bureaucratic reform and consistent law enforcement are necessary to prevent corruption with the support of good synergy from all stakeholders, including the government and private sector. b. Political Donation and Funding: How does the Business Deal with it? (Speakers: KPK's Director of Public Education and Service, Anti-Corruption Division of OECD, Indonesia Corruption Watch, and General Elections Commission) Conclusions/recommendations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Bribery in the form of political donation creates unhealthy competition among businesses. The vicious circle of political corruption is closely related to political candidacy, business cronyism, and government procurement. • Transparency of political funding and political party reform is essential. Rampant corruption case involving political party elites, both at national and international levels, shows that corruption eradication process at political sector is the priority that has to be met. • Indonesia needs to issue clear and effective regulation on political parties, general elections, and regional head elections to reduce corruption risk. It must cover criminalization of bribery in the form of political donation and the establishment of political party integrity system, including the increase of political party funding assistance from state budget. • Contribution of businesses for political sector is a constitutional participation that must be protected and encouraged, but its transparency must be increased. • Corruption prevention system in private sector must be strengthened. Businesses must not give political donation to get business ease or privilege, because it is in fact categorized as bribery. c. Anticorruption Guideline for Business: From Voluntary to Mandatory (Speakers: KPK Commissioner, SKK Migas Internal Monitoring Expert Staff, National Standardization Body's (BSN) Deputy for Standard and Accreditation Implementation, Malaysian Anti-Corruption Commission, Petronas Malaysia, Johnson & Johnson Indonesia, Formulation Team of SKKNI's Integrity Builder Officer, Unilever Indonesia, SustaIN) Conclusions/recommendations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PERMA No. 13/2016 stipulates corporation crime accountability that requires corporations to be held accountable for the benefits received from bribery, as well as for the absence of corruption prevention system inside the organization.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Corruption prevention efforts in private sector can be done through the followings: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o Thematic implementation of ISO 37001 against corruption. This standardization includes the ways to control anti-bribery policy and it is flexible, as it can be applied in small, medium to large organizations, public sector, SOE, private sector or NGO. o Certification of Integrity Officer (API) as the building root to prevent corruption in institutions and businesses. API works to ensure companies comply with anticorruption regulations, and as resource person on anticorruption regulations. d. Anti-Corruption Measurement in Businesses (Speakers: Transparency International, Transparency International Indonesia, KPMG auditing firm, Deputy II of the Presidential Staff Office, Gadjah Mada University) Conclusions/recommendations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Private sector plays a role in preventing corruption by building corruption prevention system in each organization and improving transparency, integrity and accountability in business practices. Every rogranization needs to identify corruption risk and vulnerability, and develop control and compliance system to prevent corruption. • Every company needs to develop corporate culture with integrity, increase the capacity of the entire corporate elements, including hard and soft competency against corruption, and monitor/measure the effectiveness of anticorruption program that has been developed. The use of technology will help every company to measure the effectiveness of existing anti-bribery and anticorruption programs. • The entire stakeholders must collaborate to say no to corruption. The government must provide good atmosphere to support the initiative, including by creating a transparent and fair procurement system, cashless payment system, and transparent beneficial ownership. e. Improving of Ease of Doing Business Through Public Engagement (NAC/RAC) (Speakers: KPK Commissioner, Head of Business Community Against Bribery (KUPAS) at the Indonesian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, ICAC Hongkong, Deputy for Promotion at the Capital Investment Coordination Board (BKPM), Anti-Corruption Division of OECD) Conclusions/ recommendations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Standards of ethics must apply for both public and private sectors. Transparency and accountability of business sector will help create competitive and healthy economy. Therefore, corruption prevention and eradication efforts must be sustainable to support the country's business competitiveness. • The establishment of National and Regional Advocacy Committee as a forum for public and private sectors involvement in creating collective actions against corruption. Collaboration between KPK, the Committees and Task Unit of the Ease of Doing Business is required to determine the standards of the ease of doing business.

NO.	ACTIVITY / PROGRAM	DESCRIPTION/RESULT
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The government, the chamber of commerce, businesses and profession organizations must have the same purpose, energy and efforts to implement business ethics. Indonesia needs to have anti-bribery standards that are low cost and easy to follow by any level of companies, including SME. The government plays important role in creating clean and transparent licensing process, ensuring the integrity of law enforcers, and managing conflict of interest to create the ease of doing business in Indonesia. f. Improving Indonesia's Investment Climate Through Beneficial Ownership Transparency (Speakers: KPK Commissioners, Chairperson of The Financial Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre (PPATK), Head of the Financial Services Authority's (OJK) Anti-Money Laundering and Terrorism Funding Prevention Group, Director General of General Law Administration at the Ministry of Justice and Human Rights, HRMC UK, PT Kustodian Sentral Efek Indonesia) Conclusions/recommendations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Businesspeople in Indonesia must provide transparent information on their business ownership, both direct and indirect beneficial ownership. Beneficial Ownership (BO) refers to individuals, and its transparency is crucial to help create healthy business climate and fair law enforcement. BO transparency is crucial given the long structure and layers faced by financial institutions and law enforcements in tracing the BO of a corporation, and it requires global network to trace it. Implementation of Single Investor ID (SID) is a transparency platform of a BO over stock and custodian bank ownership. g. Digital Start-Up Contribution to Build Public Integrity (Speakers: KPK Commissioners, Director of Deregulation at the BKPM, Bukalapak, Go-Jek, PPM Management) Conclusions/recommendations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The government has made starting a business easier through the implementation of online submission service to obtain license. However, businesses and the government must communicate openly. Indonesia must be able to increase competitive advantages by building integrity in public sector, including through the implementation of zero tolerance principle. Digital industry remains wide and open as long as we can contribute with integrity and positivity. The government must create regulations that cover digital industry within the framework of healthy business competition.

KPK must also encourage the prevention efforts to be conducted simultaneously. To ensure effective dissemination of anticorruption campaign material, KPK needs to have agreement and discussion with related institutions. The hope is for widespread anticorruption campaign movement. The materials will be displayed on indoor and outdoor media managed by each institution. They must be dynamic and open for public.
